

Strategically located distribution hubs to flexibly supply the UK

The nation's best-known hypermarkets, international oil companies and blue chip customers in the commercial, retail, supermarket, aviation, and chemical sectors, rely on Essar for the large-scale supply and distribution of road fuels, aviation fuels and other high quality petroleum products.

At Essar, we have made over $1bn in strategic investments to develop the strength and capabilities of our UK businesses and are proud of Stanlow as a key national and regional asset. Supplying over 16% of the UK's road transport fuels we are delighted to offer best-in-class delivery services via road, pipeline and ship from Stanlow and our other distribution hubs.

In addition to our state-of-the-art refinery, our world-class logistics infrastructure network has a highly efficient distribution capability. Featuring a self-loading terminal capable of loading 26.5 million litres of transport fuels or filling 1,600 road tankers a day at our road gantry; an oil dock offering six berths that can export internationally, and direct pipeline access to successfully service the needs of all major customer segments through the country's energy corridor.

Our ownership of the Northampton Terminal, our share in the Kingsbury Terminal and our equity stake in the UK Oil Pipeline (UKOP) is just the latest phase of our strategic business development; strengthening our network and capability to supply high-quality, great value fuels through continued long-term access to the Midlands, South West and South East regions.

Strategically located on the banks of the River Mersey, Essar's Stanlow Manufacturing Complex offers outstanding manufacturing expertise, extensive infrastructure assets and unrivalled connectivity for the reliable supply and distribution of exceptionally large volumes of products.

We're continuing to grow our customer base and the geographies we provide our range of supply and distribution services. With an on time, in full delivery service level of over 99%, we welcome new customers to our reliable delivered-in service. Get in touch to find out more. ”

With an on time, in full delivery service level of over 99%, our reliable delivered-in offer also transports over 5 million litres of fuel each day to commercial, retail, supermarket, aviation and chemical customers. By adopting a haulier strategy and flexibly managing our dependable, sector-established haulier partner base, we continue to satisfy and supply through peak demands and challenging operating environments while strengthening our relationships with our customer base.

As consumer confidence increases and we move out of the pandemic, demand for our products continues to rise. In fact, we recently achieved an all-time, combined record for deliveries of ground and aviation fuels, including speciality chemicals.

This flexible combination of our supply, distribution and delivered-in services, along with our strategically located assets means we can provide our fuels across wider areas of the country

What's more, it means our customers are in safe hands and they have peace of mind knowing they can rely on us because we understand their customers rely on them.

We're continuing to grow our customer base and delivered-in services while expanding to multiple geographies outside of the North West. To find out more call 0151 350 4003 or email: commercial.sales@essaroil.co.uk
